Plenary Council a chance to 'claim our voice'

Extracted from Plenary Post Edition 13, February 5 2019

A guest contributor for The Catholic Leader has said the Plenary Council process is an opportunity to fulfil the wishes of an iconic Australian pop song. The author cited the following lyrics from John Farnham's You're the Voice: "We're not gonna sit in silence, we're not gonna live with fear." He said that listening to voices of others, particularly those with different opinions can be a challenge.

He encouraged people to use the Plenary Council to "claim our voice". "Trust your God voice inside. Simply and humbly listen and then from that space of listening speak your truth calmly and clearly," he wrote. "Sadly some of us will think: 'My voice does not matter.' If that voice, no matter how small, had spoken up a million times in history in the face of oppression and hate and joined with hundreds of other 'that voices', then tyranny may have been more quickly challenged and defeated and the Spirit gained fresh wings."

Have your say and contribute to the Plenary Council's agenda by visiting the website: <http://plenarycouncil.catholic.org.au> We have until 6th March to make submissions.

KEEP UP-TO-DATE ON THE EUTHANASIA LAWS

Care for Life

"Care for Life" is a new website offering up-to-date information, views and articles about the threat of euthanasia in Western Australia. The L J Goody Bioethics Centre is a major partner in "Care for Life".

We are facing a long hard road to defeat the proposed laws, so make sure you stay informed and have your say. Check in regularly at www.careforlife.net.au
